

Model Comparison Table

Comparison to Latin American City Model
	Concentric zone model	Sector model	Multiple nuclei model
Similarities
Differences

Latin American Model

1. Shown here is the urban land use model of a typical Latin American city.
 - a. Identify and describe TWO ways in which the model is similar to models of North American cities.
 - b. Identify and describe ONE feature that differentiates land use in a typical Latin American city from one of the North American models.

- Key:
- a. Commercial
 - b. Industrial
 - c. Elite residential sector
 - d. Zone of maturity
 - e. Zone of in situ accretion
 - f. Zone of peripheral squatter settlements
 - g. Gentrification
 - h. Middle-class residential

Source: The Cultural Landscape, 8th edition by James M. Rubenstein (Pearson Prentice Hall, 2005)